COMMERCIAL.

HONOLULU, NOV. 8, 1887. Bradstreet's New York Report of the latest date has the following relative to the sugar market:

A generally confident temper characterised ealings in raw, as well as refined sugars, the requirements of buyers showing increasing urgency in the face of diminishing sup-plies and marked reserve in the offerings advices from Europe were, as a rule, of a favorable tenor, though not reporting anything like a notable activity. From Cuba the latest accounts by mail were a hardening movement in values on freer purchases there.

The latest cane crop estimates were as pre-viously given. Beet crop estimates were mentioned as 225,000 tons under the aggregate of 1886.

A comparative exhibit of the movement at the four principal importing and distributing ports of the United States, based on the calculation of Messrs, Willett & Hamlen, shows that at the latest dates the aggregate stocks of sugar in all countries had fallen to 532, 630 tons, against 707,737 tons a year ago.

The statistical position thus seems strong, serving to maintain the very firm views of holders and give a decided help to values.

Unusual interest has been evinced in the discussion of the combination of refiners, here and at Boston, in the form of a trust, to control the production and regulate the prices of the refined product, which combi-nation was to go into actual operation on October 15. The scope of this combination is represented as including all the New York sugar refineries, and the Boston refineries with one exception, and having an executive committee of eleven refiners. Messrs Wil-lett & Hamlen remark that: "The combina-tion represents a capital of say $15,000,000, apportioned to different refineries on an equitable basis for the division of profits. The only sugar refineries in the United States not included in the 'trust' or combination are two refineries in Philadelphia, one in Boston, three small refineries in New Orieans, one in St. Louis, but not running, and two in San Francisco. The committee have full control of the production of refined so that it can always be regulated by the de-mand by the running full, or closing, or partial closing of any refinery, and will have no difficulty in regulating the prices of refined to a paying basis, as compared with market price of raw sugar. It is not likely that large profits will be demanded, as this course would antagonize the 60,000,000 consumers, who would unite in demanding from the next Congress the entire removal of sugar duties on both raw and refined sugars."

At New Orleans sugar is coming in in good quantities, and prices are settling to a lower level. The week opened with yellow centrifugal at 7c. and closed at 6c.

There was a gathering or about 1011, or fifty of the Japanese working people including two or three women. Japanese flags adorned the principal doorways leading to the Japanese room, and there was a pretty limits of flowers and foliage. A striking device attracted the eye at once on entering the apartment. Two pillars of ice rising out of a thicket of vegetation, mingled with flowers, represented a celebrated cliff and a gorne on the shore of Japan, something like our vannted Nagana Pali. Above the intervening space was the national emblem of the rising sun, well figured by a trans-parent red disc with a lamp behind it, a fieck of clouds in front and luminous bars radiating from the glowing orb. Refreshments consisting of coffee, sandwiches, cake and fruit were served in abundance, and the whole company was in the happiest mood. The entertainment was superintended by Mr. Hibino, of the Japanese store on Fort street, who deserves much praise for the care and tact be showed in regulating the festival and contributing to the enjoyment of his country-folk in their loyal celebration.

Dingey Race.

Probably one of the most exciting races that has taken place, since the arrival of the United States fleet, came off Tuesday. The dingey of the Vandalia, manned by an ama teur crew, pulled over the course from the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co.'s buoy, to the farewell buoy and return, against the dingey of the Junista. From the starting point the Juniata got the lead, but on the home stretch, by reison of the steady, even pull of the Vandalia—under the guidance of Cotswain White, as old timer—they soon got the lead and manfally held it to the finish. The excitament was intense both on shore and on the three men-of-war. The time occupied by the winning crew in cover-ing the distance was twenty-four minutes. bringing them in to the starting point victors by at least seven seconds.

House adjourned to 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Third Day.

SATURDAY, Nov. 5, 1887. The House met at 10 o'clock, the President, Hon. S. G. Wilder, in the chair, and was opened with prayer by the Chaplain.

Minutes of previous day's business were read in English by Mr. J. A. Magoon, Clerk, and in Hawaiian by Mr. W. L. Wilcox, Interpreter. The minutes were, on motion, adopted.

Rep. Kamauoha read petitions from South Kona, praying, first, that the salaries of the King and all Government officers be reduced, and, second, that all Acts granting permanent settlements be repealed.

Rep. Kawainui moved the credentials of Rep. Kauhane, Pachaole and Nakaleka, presented for the first time. be submitted to the Judiciary Committee. Carried.

Rep. C. Brown moved that the Judiciary Committee have leave to retire to examine the credentials just referred to them Granted.

Noble Hitchcock moved the follow-WHEREAS, the office of Commissioners of Crown Lands was created by the Legislature of this Kingdom, and the charge and care of said lands has been placed in the hands of said commissioners by the Legislature; and WHEREAS, in the past, the Legislatures sitting from time to time, have not been able to obtain from said commissioners, any report of the business but in fact at all times have refused to make such reports, when requested so

Also, what Crown lands are now under lease? Where situated? At what annual rental, to whom leased, and for how long a time leased, and whether the annual rental of any of Minister Brown moved an amendment that the report be made to next biennial session. Noble Castle moved the adoption of the resolution.

Rep. C. Brown said the Crown lands constitute a trust estate and that the trustees were responsible only to the provide for the organization, regula- parties for whose benefit the trust was ously given notice of, to repeal chapter laid on the table.

Minister Brown said the receipts from the Crown lands last year were $29,000 and this year would probably be $30,000. Reps. Kamauoha and Kalaukoa spoke in favor of deferring the matter to the biennial session of the Legislature.

Noble Widemann said the Crown lands were Government property. The Noble went back to the titles of Kamehameha III. and IV., who were inthemselves, their heirs, successors and assigns. Both of the Kings named had sold some of the lands. After the death of Kamehameha III., Kalama, his widow, received her dower from the title during the lifetime of Kamehamenoon till 4 p. m., excepting on Saturdays when the Assembly shall adjourn at 12 o'clock. Carried.

Noble Smith read the bill of which heir Kakuanaou. The Crown land heir Kakuanaou, The Crown land bill was passed. Kakuanaou left two heirs, a son and a daughter. The son Rep. > support of it. The motion to table the resolution was put and lost.

Minister Brown's amendment having been accepted, the resolution as so amended was put and carried. The Judiciary Committee reported that they had examined the creden-tials of Messrs. Kauhane, Paehaole and Nakaleka and found them correct. Nobles Smith and Waterhouse were appointed to request the attendance of the Chief Justice to swear in the three members above named.

Vice Chancellor Justice McCully entered the chamber a few minutes later, when Reps. Kauhane, Paehaole, and Nakaleka were duly sworn, upon which the Vice Chancellor retired.

Rep. C. Brown nominated Rep. J. Kanhane as Vice-President of the House, No other nomination was of-fered, and the honorable member was elected unanimously, and with a general expression of enthusiasm on the part of members.

Minister Brown read a first time the bill previously given notice of, "to regulate Chinese immigration." On motion of Minister Thurston, the rules were suspended and the bill referred to the Printing Committee. Rep. Daniels moved the following: The Minister of Foreign Affairs is hereby requested to state to the House the cost of the volunteer organization for the present period, and the amount, if any, of the outstanding claims against the appropriation.

Rep. C. Brown moved the following: That the Minister of Finance inform this Assembly, in writing, the present status of the so-called English loan, the amount of bonds sold in the Engsh market, the charges or commisions attending such sale in detail, whether or not the bonds comply with the statute authorizing their issuance, and further, that the policy of His Majesty's Government in the matter be fully explained, and whether it is Hep, C. and Rep. W. H. Rice. Rep. F. Brown moved that, as certain papers are left every morning on the desks of members, no appropriation be made for the payment of such pa-

The Chair ruled the motion out of order, no appropriation having yet been made for any of the expenses of the session. Minister Thurston informed the House that he had received statements from Mr. Paul Neumann relating to the so-called Japanese claim. No appropriation had been made to pay any such claim. He moved the papers be referred to a special committee. Carried. The committee to whom these claims were referred are Nobles Baldwin, Notley and Bertelmann, and Reps. J.

. Kawainui and C. Brown. Rep. Kamauoha moved that all members of the bar who are members of the House be prohibited from absenting themselves from the House to attend to their private practice.

Rep. Kinney thought members of the bar should be allowed some discretion. The bar was just now closing up the business of the recent term. He thought the members of the bar would keep pace with other members in attending to their public duties. Noble Castle rose to a point of order, Class legislation was unconstitutional.

If the resolution applied to all members of the House, he would have nothing to say. The Chair ruled the resolution out of order, and gave the introducer leave to withdraw it, which he did. Minister Ashford gave notice of a
